

Directions: The eight sections in the Wheel of Life represent different categories of your life. With the center of the wheel as 0 (very dissatisfied) and the outer as 10 (extremely satisfied). Score each category and then plot a line to create a new outer edge depending on your level of fulfillment in each category. This new wheel represents a snapshot of the different categories of your life in the present moment.

